

Sister's Spin

March 9, 2021

There are not too many saints celebrated during the season of Lent. While the Liturgy concentrates on Lent, saints are mentioned in prayer books or listed on calendars. Such is the case today as the Church celebrates St. Frances of Rome. She married early in life, though she really wanted to enter religious life. However, she used her money to assist the poor, and sick of the city. It is said that she had the privilege of always seeing her Guardian Angel as she traveled about the city of Rome doing good. As adults, we may not think about our Guardian Angels much, but it is good to remember that this Spirit is always with us, watching over us and carrying our good deeds to God. Perhaps it would be good to take some quiet moments to have a conversation with your Guardian Angel on this Lenten Day.
