

Sister's Spin

A very Blessed Easter to All!

Many years ago, my Religious Community of SSND had a ceremony that took place when we pronounced our vows. The sisters prostrated themselves before the altar and were covered by a huge black pall, much like that which was placed on coffins before the changes of Vatican II. While covered, the choir sang these words in Latin from the letter to the Colossians --" You have died and your life is hidden with Christ in God. When Christ, your light appears,, you too will appear with Him in glory..." As the song was finished and the pall removed, we returned to a kneeling position with a sense of resurrection.. As this Easter is celebrated, I think of our sisters who have died over these past months and rejoice as they celebrate in the glory of the Resurrection. May the joy brought by the Risen Christ to His Mother, the Apostles and disciples fill your heart these Easter days.
