

Sister's Spin

June 12, 2021

These early days of June host so many feast days that it is hard to choose just one on which to focus. After Trinity Sunday comes the wonderful feast of Corpus Christi, and then, at the end of this week, the feasts of the Sacred Heart and the Immaculate Heart of Mary. In between was a little feast of a saint called Ephrem. What struck me about Ephrem, who was a deacon and refused ordination, was his desire to include music in the celebration of the Liturgy. as a means of evangelization. As we return to "normalcy" in our society and our churches, perhaps once again, we will sing at our liturgies and through the words of songs, be reminded of some of the important truths of our faith. Like Jane Froman ( for the old timers among us), let us go about "With a song in our hearts" and on our lips as we celebrate our liturgies in these coming days and weeks.
