

Sister's Spin

September 16, 2020

"In this second week of the Season of Creation, the focus is on the Land. In many countries around this world, the land has been and continues to be in a state of struggle. in our own country right now, the fires and the hurricanes, the flooding-- all are destroying precious land and the lives of the people who inhabit these areas. Humanity also does its share to destroy this precious element of creation. Pesticides, industrial accidents, and pollution of various types all wreak havoc on the land. During this week, let us think about the small ways that each of us can take better care of the small patch of land on which we live.
