

Sister's Spin

October 26, 2020

In these pandemic times, many Church practices have had to be reevaluated in the light of the current illness. One of these is the practice of adoration of the Blessed Sacrament. This practice is a very old one in the Church, and has recently seen a reawakening in our society. However, the pandemic has caused many local Churches to close their adoration chapels or to cut the hours when people can go in to pray. Prayer in the presence of the Exposed Body/Blood of Christ is very beneficial and gains one many merits. It is one means of acknowledging Faith in the Eucharist as the Body and Blood of Christ and helps one to build that relationship with Jesus as if one walked with Him during his time on earth. Hopefully, you can find some time to sit in His Presence and learn from Jesus about His endless love for you.
