

Sister's Spin

December 8, 2020

These few days in the second week of Advent could be called Mary's Days. Beginning with this feast today of her Immaculate Conception, the next few days all celebrate feasts of Mary--some more well known than others. On the 9th, we celebrate Juan Diego to whom she appeared on the hillsides of Tepeyac, The 10th of December celebrates the Holy House of Loreto--the house presumed to be the one that Mary, Joseph, and Jesus lived in while in Nazareth. The 11th of December celebrates Mary as Queen of Angels, and of course, the 12th recalls her appearance at Guadalupe to Juan Diego. While some of these feasts are not so well known, they serve to remind us of Mary's role in Salvation History, but also to remind us that she is always accessible--one to whom we can always go to with our needs. She will take them to her Son who has a hard time saying NO to His Mother. Happy Feast Day!
