

Welcome to Newman!

Here at Newman we are committed to inspire students to a lifelong journey of learning academically and spiritually. This is done through their inquiry of their thoughts, hearts to compassion, and lives to the service of humanity by working in partnership with the community to provide innovative programs for all students, nurture their unique abilities, and encourage them to pursue excellence in their endeavors.

The Principal is responsible to keep that mission at the forefront of our work as a school. Below is the mission of Newman. We will be working hard to fulfill this mission for all of our students.

The mission of Newman Central Catholic High School is an extension of the teaching Mission of Christ and His Church. Newman provides its students with an education in the Catholic faith and offers a secular education within the context of that faith. Within the academic curriculum, there is an emphasis on oral and written communication in math, science, social studies and humanities. Newman strives to develop students spiritually, intellectually, emotionally and physically. This is facilitated in an environment of faith and Christian service in the Church and society.

Students, staff, and parents are encouraged to contact the Principal's Office or stop in for any questions, concerns, or comments. I welcome your input and I am committed to doing what is best for our young men and women here at Newman.

God Bless,

Andy Edmondson
