January 18, 2021

Is it coincidence or is it the work of God that the day after the celebration of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. and his work for unity, the Church begins a week of prayer and celebration for Unity among all Christians? Today, January 18th, begins this week of prayer and it ends on the feast of the Conversion of St. Paul, January 25th. This week of prayer for unity was begun back in 1908 by an Episcopalian priest, Father Paul Wattson, who eventually converted to Catholicism and whose life is now being studied for beatification and canonization. The theme for this year revolves around the feast of the Epiphany which we just celebrated as the Christmas Season came to an end. It reminds us that all people are called to be one in the worship of God, as Jesus prayed at the Last Supper. While it may seem that this week gets very little attention now, it is still vital to offer prayers for unity, not only in our faith, but in our country and world.
