

Sister's Spin

March 7, 2023

Change is hard, as I found out one day when I went grocery shopping. Hoping to get through in about a half hour, I was in for a big surprise. They had changed the whole store! Or so it seemed to me! Where I usually found one item was something else and even the frozen food area had been revamped! And I wasn't the only one diligently searching for all my old favorites on shelves that used to be familiar. Change is hard and grocery shopping took much, much longer than expected. And so it is with this season of Lent. Change is hard. Maybe what I usually expect to do needs to be changed and change is hard. It is so easy to just do the usual, but has it brought about any change? Hmm, maybe like that supermarket store, it is good to mix things up once in a while, to help one be more alert to what one is REALLY SEARCHING FOR. CHANGE IS HARD!
