March 9, 2022

March is Women's History Month, and March 8th was International Women's Day. In this season of Lent, the women of the Bible came to mind. In both the Old Testament and the New Testament, women play an important role in Salvation History. Some of them are often overlooked, but their actions speak loudly. For instance, take Moses' mother. She loved her child so much that she was willing to do anything to save his life. Judith and Esther were very brave in face of great danger toward the Hebrew Nation. The New Testament also gives us examples of women who were strong in their beliefs and trust in God. Of course, there is Mary, but also many others who followed and saw to the needs of Jesus and the Apostles. We only hear of them once or twice, but they were there and honored this small group by their service. In these days of Lent, it is good to think of these women and their role in the life of Jesus. Perhaps in this month we need to ponder the lives of these Biblical Heroines and ask them to show us our role in today's Church.
