

Sister's Spin

September 29, 2022

Today is the feast of those three great angels--Michael, God's Warrior, Gabriel, God's Messenger, and Raphael, God's Healer. These angels make me think about those special areas over which they keep watch. There are so many wars in our world today, but also within ourselves sometimes. There's a definite need to call on Michael these days, to do battle for us against the conflicts that go on in both our individual lives and the lives of many others in our world. Gabriel, bringer of messages, waits to take our messages to God, but also carries some to us from God today. What message will I receive from this very busy angel and are my ears open to listen for it? Then, there is Raphael, one who heals not just the physical ills of our time, but the spiritual and emotional ones, too. Just as we need Michael to do battle for us, so we need Raphael, to heal the wounds that cause us to go to war in the first place. Great Creatures of God, be with us, today and everyday, that we may hear God's messages and act on them to bring peace and healing to our world.
