

Sister's Spin

November 1, 2021

Happy Feast Day! Today is a day to truly celebrate. We honor all those who have died in the state of grace and whom we presume are enjoying the glories of heaven. Some have been officially named by the Church, but there are so many others who have lived a life of loving service to God and are surely enjoying the Beatific Vision. I often wonder how they celebrate these feast days in heaven. The readings talk about the great multitude assembled before the throne of God in their white robes, praising God. It is hard to imagine such a grand sight. And today, as we pray to all those saints, we can also think about how many more will be added tomorrow as we pray for those in Purgatory who will join that heavenly celebration because of our prayers for them. So pick your favorite saints today and send them your greetings. Ask them to continue to help you so that, one day, you can also be among that group standing at the throne of God!

-Sister Marcianne

