Happy St. Nicholas Day to All! This Advent brings this feast of joy for little ones each year-a sort of preparation for the celebration of Christmas and a reminder to all just how that idea of Santa Claus really started. St. Nick was Bishop, near present day Turkey, and enjoyed helping the poor and especially, children. He reminds us that giving to others without expecting any return is one of the greatest joys of this season. He suffered for his Faith, too, something we don't hear about as much, but he spent time in prison because of his strong opposition to the evils of his day. So on the feast of this jolly saint, let us give a gift to someone--perhaps a smile, a helping hand, a prayer-- and in the spirit of the season, bring a little more joy into our world.
